2.5 - Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 - Mechanism of internal assessment is transparent and robust in terms of frequency and mode. Write description within 200 words.

The college has established a comprehensive, transparent, and effective system for Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE) of students. Internal exam schedules are communicated via the Academic Calendar. The evaluation process includes both formative and summative assessments. Formative assessment is carried out using a graded system, taking into account the following:

- Attendance
- Two unit tests per semester
- Assignments and projects
- Field visits (for Geography)
- Seminar presentations and participation
- Classroom engagement
- Involvement in college activities
- Adherence to good conduct, ethics, and values

The college mandates a minimum of 75% attendance per semester. Internal assessment includes unit tests, assignments, viva voce, and practical exams. Personalised feedback is provided to students, and those who are struggling are counselled and offered suggestions for improvement. Additional support includes remedial sessions, often involving peer learning and evaluation, with the teacher assuming the role of facilitator. The shift to student-centred learning has enhanced curriculum delivery. In summative assessments, students sit for semester-end exams modelled after the university pattern, where answer scripts are graded and further feedback is given.

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) informs the staff about the learning outcomes and facilitates discussions around the POs, PSOs, and COs as part of curriculum planning. At the start of each semester, teachers clearly explain these outcomes in the classroom, ensuring students are aware of course expectations from the very beginning. The college utilises multiple methods to communicate the learning outcomes to both students and faculty, and feedback on the syllabus is regularly collected by the Feedback Committee for continuous improvement.

7.3.1 - Portray the performance of the Institution in one area distinctive to its priority and thrust within 200 words

Since its inception, the institution has prioritised quality education and student welfare, with a focus on supporting educationally and economically disadvantaged girls. To meet this objective, various initiatives are implemented, ensuring that newly admitted students benefit from the available resources and programs. One such initiative is the Freshers Welcome , [DEEKSHARAMBH] an institutional tradition introduced in 2010-11, designed to integrate first-year students into college life. Held at the start of each academic session, this event is primarily for Arts students, offering them an introduction to available facilities, activities, and processes. The program also familiarises new students with ICT tools, aligning with the institution's vision of uplifting and empowering underprivileged students through continuous evaluation, promotion, and development strategies. The Literary Club promotes diverse languages and literatures by organising offline and virtual events. The participants are from the parent college as well as students from the entire nation. The Digital Revolution Group organises offline and virtual hands-on-training sessions for trainning the stusents, teaching and non-teaching staff in basic digital skills.

CURRICULAR ASPECTS

1.1 - Curricular Planning and Implementation

1.1.1 - The Institution ensures effective curriculum delivery through a well planned and documented process

The college is affiliated with R.T.M. Nagpur University, following the curriculum set by the university. Within this framework, the college strives to deliver top-quality education and foster the all-around development of its students. Academic procedures are efficiently organised, with timetables, workloads, and administrative tasks meticulously managed. Teaching, learning, and evaluation schedules strictly follow the University's Academic Calendar.

During the 2022-23 academic year, classes were conducted in an offline format, with close supervision by department heads. Regular assessments, including assignments, presentations, and internal exams, were carried out to gauge student performance. To ensure smooth curriculum delivery, each faculty member prepares lesson plans, departmental timetables, and other academic coordination documents before the semester begins. The Principal, mentors, and faculty members also meet informally with parents or guardians when necessary to discuss students' overall progress.

2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organizes special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners

The following measures are used to evaluate advanced learners:

- Regular organisation of student seminars and group discussions.
- Providing information about competitive exams and career opportunities.
- Recommending standard reference books available in the library for deeper learning.
- Encouraging them to write model answers using past university exam papers.

In addition to class participation, tutorials, tests, assignments, presentations, and other interactions are regularly reviewed to identify advanced learners.

Recognizing that every student has unique learning needs, efforts are made to integrate slower learners into the academic mainstream. The following steps are taken to assess and support slow learners:

- 1. Regular assessment of participation in lectures, tutorials, tests, assignments, presentations, and other interactions to identify slower learners. Various teaching methods are employed to ensure they grasp essential concepts.
- 2. Mentor-mentee interactions allow faculty to stay connected with students, helping to address academic or personal challenges and fostering their overall development.

Both the staff room and library are equipped with networked internet connections, and the campus is Wi-Fi enabled. Sometimes Classes, seminars, and guest lectures are conducted in the Seminar Hall using LCD projectors.

To enhance teaching skills, faculty members participate in workshops focused on digital tools and platforms like the National Digital Library and SWAYAM. The use of ICT, particularly audio-visual materials, makes lessons more engaging and visually stimulating, leading to improved student outcomes and attendance. Many instructors have adopted modern teaching methods, utilising platforms such as Zoom, Google Meet, Google Sites, and Google Classroom to implement "flipped learning," post and receive assignments, share educational resources, and use Google Forms for student CIE and Internal assessments.

The Department of English uses ICT in teaching and learning process.CIE or Internal Assessment is done by using Google forms,Google classroom,etc.

2.5 - Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 - Mechanism of internal assessment is transparent and robust in terms of frequency and mode. Write description within 200 words.

The college has established a comprehensive, transparent, and effective system for Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE) of students. Internal exam schedules are communicated via the Academic Calendar. The evaluation process includes both formative and summative assessments. Formative assessment is carried out using a graded system, taking into account the following:

- Attendance
- Two unit tests per semester
- Assignments and projects
- Field visits (for Geography)
- Seminar presentations and participation
- Classroom engagement
- Involvement in college activities
- Adherence to good conduct, ethics, and values

The college mandates a minimum of 75% attendance per semester. Internal assessment includes unit tests, assignments, viva voce, and practical exams. Personalised feedback is provided to students, and those who are struggling are counselled and offered suggestions for improvement. Additional support includes remedial sessions, often involving peer learning and evaluation, with the teacher assuming the role of facilitator. The shift to student-centred learning has enhanced curriculum delivery. In summative assessments, students sit for semesterend exams modelled after the university pattern, where answer scripts are graded and further feedback is given.

2.5.2 - Mechanism to deal with internal examination related grievances is transparent, timebound and efficient

The institution has a clearly defined process for handling examination-related grievances. Marks from unit tests are transparently shared with students. Any legitimate concerns students have regarding their internal assessment scores are promptly addressed by faculty. After internal evaluations, including class tests, assignments, and projects, the graded papers are returned to students along with detailed feedback and suggestions for improvement. If students have questions or concerns about their evaluations, they are encouraged to discuss them with their respective teachers, who provide thorough clarification and guidance.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 - Programme and course outcomes for all Programmes offered by the institution are stated and displayed on website and communicated to teachers and students.

The university has defined Program Outcomes (POs) for the B.A. program, as well as Program-Specific Outcomes (PSOs) and Course Outcomes (COs) for various courses. These outcomes have been uploaded on the institutional website. The college actively implements teaching plans that align with these outcomes to ensure optimal achievement of POs, PSOs, and COs. When syllabi are revised, Heads of Departments (HODs) and teachers collaboratively develop teaching strategies and evaluation methods to match these learning outcomes.

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) informs the staff about the learning outcomes and facilitates discussions around the POs, PSOs, and COs as part of curriculum planning. At the start of each semester, teachers clearly explain these outcomes in the classroom, ensuring students are aware of course expectations from the very beginning. The college utilises multiple methods to communicate the learning outcomes to both students and faculty, and feedback on the syllabus is regularly collected by the Feedback Committee for continuous improvement.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

Program and course outcomes, as outlined by NAAC, are specifically designed to equip students and other stakeholders with the knowledge and skills necessary for their future careers. These outcomes serve as a vital tool for institutional self-evaluation and continuous improvement. They have been made accessible on the college website and are communicated to students during orientation sessions for new batches and at the start of every semester. Students receive ongoing mentorship to help them achieve these defined goals. The evaluation of these outcomes is done through a variety of assessment methods, both in regular classroom activities and during internal assessments, ensuring consistent progress tracking and feedback.
